

Review: Fisher Price Little People Wheelies Stand N' Play Rompway

I asked my five year old his review of the toy and this was his response:

“Babies could play with it and also big kids. The slides work good. My sister and I had fun playing with it.”

The Little People Wheelies Stand N' Play Rompway came unassembled. I decided to attempt to set it up by myself while my husband was out. I was pleasantly impressed that I could set it up myself. It went together easily and quickly.

I like how it is tall and skinny so it is easy to store and doesn't take up a ton of space. It comes with a handle so it is easy to move.

My two year old daughter enjoys the lights and sounds and my five year old son enjoys racing the cars. I love how it has two ramps and two cars so two kids can play with it without fighting!
