

Sponsorship Kit

Would you like to introduce your business to thousands of Canadian moms? Because we sure would.

At Mommy Connections, our mission is to connect moms (new and to-be) with one another — and the products and services available in their communities, and beyond.

Our programs, which take place in 30 communities across Canada, provide a unique opportunity for new moms to learn, laugh and connect. Through them, we've helped thousands of women find joy amid the chaos of early parenthood and build (life-changing!) connections to people, products and services — at a time when it matters most.

While we are proud of our digital reach, what makes us most unique is the fact that we meet face-to-face with thousands of Canadian moms every single week.

Our audience is warm, engaged and looking to us for the latest products, services and trends in parenting — making this a huge opportunity for brands looking to connect with new and expectant parents.

Our Programming:

Through our chapters from coast-to-coast, we run classes for parents and their little ones at various stages:

TOYS

"Mommy Connections offers a really unique marketing and advertising concept by allowing us to get our toys and products directly into the hands of moms.

We provide bundles of toys and baby products for each of their mom to be, mom & baby and mom & tot classes so the moms can really see how useful they are and how babies and toddlers respond and develop through play. Our products & brands are promoted virally through the 25+ blogs, Twitter accounts, fanpages and regional newsletters, giving us excellent coverage across Canada.

Creating a partnership with Mommy Connections is so much more interactive than standard web and print advertising. We definitely feel like we are connecting with our precise target demographic and have been very pleased with the partnership."
